

14th Americas Conference on Wind Engineering
May 17-19, 2022 – Lubbock, TX
National Wind Institute – Texas Tech University

Exhibitor Opportunity

The Americas Conference on Wind Engineering is one of the Premier Conferences for the international wind engineering community. Occurring every four years, it brings together the experts at the forefronts of the fields of wind engineering and the related disciplines, including but are not limited to wind climate, wind effect on structures, environmental effect of wind, the socioeconomic impact of wind hazards, and wind energy. The Conference will feature parallel technical sessions, poster sessions and invited plenary keynote addresses, in which the most recent exciting advancements in the various fields will be presented. The Conference will also feature a technical tour, showcasing the state-of-the-art research facilities at the National Wind Institute at Texas Tech University.

The Conference gives you the ability to showcase your capabilities and products. More than 200 wind engineering academicians, professionals, and other stake holders will assemble for three days of technical and poster sessions.

The exhibition registration fee of $1,500 includes a six-foot draped table, two chairs one paid meeting registrant, and other benefits associated with a Silver Partner (one paid meeting registrant, logo recognition in registration material, slide recognition during Keynote sessions and logo recognition in printed program). Your organization's logo will be included on the conference website (if received by April 15, 2022). A list of attendees will be provided for your use. All refreshment breaks will take place in the Exhibit Area, shown as the Pre-Function area on the diagram below.
