

Come hear a special talk sponsored by Phi Beta Kappa,
the national honor society:

The Planet Within: Caves from Earth to Mars and Beyond

by Phi Beta Kappa Visiting Scholar, Dr. Penelope Boston, on Thursday, February 13th at 6pm
at TTU International Cultural Center (601 Indiana Avenue)

Dr. Boston is a renowned speleologist (cave scientist) at New Mexico Tech. She is the associate director of the National Cave and Karst Research Institute, as well as one of the founders of the Mars Underground. She focuses on possible ways to explore Mars, as well as ways to grow crops there. She also researches extremophiles, or organisms that live in “extreme” environments of cold, hot, or acid.
