

TA OF THE WEEK

February 4, 2022

Avery Eddins

Hometown: Lubbock, Texas

Research Advisor: Alessandra Corsi

This is Avery's first semester as a TA. There's always something of a learning curve involved when someone becomes a TA, and mistakes are to be expected as part of the learning process. Avery made a mistake during the first week she taught lab. She could have easily kept her mouth shut and her head down. Instead, she contacted Dr. West, informed him of the mistake, took responsibility for it, and asked what she had to do to fix it. The fix wasn't easy, yet she immediately took steps to correct the situation. That took a great deal of courage and integrity, and for that reason, Avery Eddins is TA of the week.

CONGRATULATIONS, AVERY!
