

TA OF THE WEEK

September 23, 2022

John Morales

Hometown: El Paso, Texas

Research Advisor: Thomas Maccarone

When one of our TAs gets sick, it falls to their colleagues to cover lab for them. And for the second week in a row, the TA of the Week is someone who stepped up to cover for someone else. John Morales is one of our veteran TAs who has proven he can be counted on. John is currently teaching PHYS 1404 labs. These labs are three hours long. Two days in a row this week, the TA who has the lab before John's lab was sick. John taught someone else's lab and then his with little to no break in between. That's a 6 hour stretch.

CONGRATULATIONS, JOHN!!!
