The Cross-Disciplinary Doctoral Colloquium
invites you to this year's

cross-disciplinary doctoral conference
(on-zoom and in-person)

United in Research
and
Best Doctoral Graduate Research Award

28th November from 2:00-18:30 p.m.

For details please contact Dr. Elize Bisanz: elize.bisanz@ttu.edu

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
Graduate School

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS
cross-disciplinary doctoral conference (on-zoom and in-person)
United in Research
and
Cross-Disciplinary Best Doctoral Graduate Research Award

The cross-disciplinary doctoral colloquium invites TTU doctoral graduates to the Fall semester conference on 28th November from 2:00-18:30 p.m.

The conference aims to present ongoing doctoral graduate research topics to a cross-disciplinary academic audience and discuss the scope of their scientific and social impact.

The conference will be held both on-zoom and in person.

Best Doctoral Graduate Research Award

The cross-disciplinary doctoral colloquium is pleased to announce the Cross-Disciplinary Best Doctoral Graduate Research Award. The award is funded by the Institute for Studies in Pragmaticism to recognize and encourage excellence in interdisciplinary graduate research. Selection for the award is based on originality as well as its potential social and scientific impact.

How to apply

- Please submit an abstract proposal not more than 500 words to participate in the cross-disciplinary graduate conference "United in Research" to the following contact:
  brianna.sanchez@ttu.edu . Info: 806-834-0999.
- The deadline for abstract submissions is 11.09.2022.
- Confirmed applicants are expected to present their works at the graduate conference "United in Research."

Eligibility
- Abstract submission for cross-disciplinary doctoral conference "United in Research"
- The primary researcher must be a student at the TTU graduate school, and member of the colloquium
- Abstracts must include a synopsis of the research question, methods, and relevance to social and scientific advancement.

Evaluation Procedure
- An independent Institute committee will evaluate the submissions.
- The winner will be announced by the end of 2022.

Award
- The award covers $ 600.- financial support for research expenses.