Subject: International Research and Development Seed Grants

Dear TTU Deans:

Please find attached the 2016 call for International Research/Development Seed Grants proposal. As you would recall, this program was launched in 2015 to provide “seed” funds to support faculty develop preliminary international research and development efforts that are interdisciplinary and multi-institutional. Please note that this year’s program has been marginally modified to better align with colleges’ existing priorities and goals.

We would appreciate it if you would please make this information available to your department chairs and faculty. The attached information may also be obtained from the program Website at

Thank you.
