

OUTREACH & ENGAGEMENT

TEXAS TECH
Office of the Provost

COMMUNITY ENGAGED- LEARNING (CeL)

COMMUNITY - ENGAGED LEARNING

integrates engagement with external communities into coursework to deepen students' academic learning and promote civic responsibility.

BENEFITS

- Collaboration between educational institutions and community organizations
- Experiential and place-based learning
- Focus on addressing community needs
- Reflection to enhance both content and civic learning
- High-impact practice

INCLUDES

- Design and creation of CeL courses
- Development of ethical and sustainable community partnerships that meet community needs
- Assessment and measurement of impact
- Overcome institutional and logistical challenges
- Engaged scholarship
- CeL Faculty Affiliate Program

Community-engaged Learning pairs academic knowledge with a community need to foster social impact. CeL is focused on sustained, collaborative, and reciprocal partnerships; it encourages students to work alongside community members, addressing long-term social issues and contributing to community-driven solutions.

Questions or to learn more:
mellinee.lesley@ttu.edu