2022 Internship Outline

I. About Trinity Forest Golf Club

Trinity Forest is a championship golf course located in south Dallas with various tour pros and active membership that call this place home. Now a thriving ecosystem, this Coore and Crenshaw design needed a great deal of creativity to become more than an idea. Sitting atop a landfill, this property needed to be capped with soil. Due to the minimalistic values of its designers, the course has close to the exact contours it had before construction. The result was a true links-style course with undulating greens (Champion Bermuda) and firm, fast fairways (Trinity Forest Zoysia). Our team is no stranger to what it takes to produce championship conditions, having hosted two AT&T Byron Nelson events on the PGA tour and the much-anticipated 2023 Jackson T. Stephens Cup.

II. What will your internship look like?

This internship will allow the right candidate to experience turf management under the direction of industry renown Agronomists. Each intern will have the opportunity to work on both the championship course and our world-class practice facility that caters to numerous tour professionals. Interns will spend their time here mastering all aspects of maintenance, most notably spray applications and irrigation repair. We will make sure that the things you haven’t harnessed yet will become second nature when you leave.

III. Compensation, housing, and benefits

a) Compensation will $15/hr. and you can expect overtime throughout the summer months. However, we are very in tune with the need for a work – life balance so don’t think you’ll be living at the office.

b) Housing will be located in the historic deep ellum district free of charge, which is boasting with a vibrant night life and parallel dining options.

c) Golfing privileges

If you are interested in joining the Trinity Forest Agronomy Team or have any additional questions about what this internship offers, please contact Austin Peters, Assistant Superintendent at Trinity Forest Golf Club.
