

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
Davis College

Plant & Soil Science™

COURSE: 4001 PROBLEMS: VINEYARD OPERATIONS

Course Description:

Seasonal vineyard management practices with an emphasis on operational activities.

Type of Class: In-Person & Hands-On

When: Fall 2024

Days: Tuesday/Thursday Afternoons

Where: FBRI

1001 East Loop 289, Rm. 126

Lubbock, TX 79403

Instructor: Kirk Williams

Course Purpose:

The purpose of this course is to assist students master a variety of seasonal vineyard management practices and develop vineyard management programs. In addition, students will gain vineyard management expertise, and experience hands on, safe operating practices of various vineyard tools and equipment. In addition, students will gain proficiency of various management practices such as soil sampling, vine training, vine pruning, vine canopy management, vine tissue sampling, vineyard fertilization, vineyard sprayer calibration and operation, soil moisture monitoring, and plotting berry harvest maturity.

QUESTIONS?

1-806-834-7137

kirk.w.williams@ttu.edu

Website: Viticulture & Enology

1001 East Loop 289

Lubbock, TX 79403

