

February 2023

General description

Corteva AgriScience's Lubbock, TX research center is looking for research workers. The job will be heavily field based. Field activities will include field hoeing, data collection, and maintenance in sorghum, cotton, and corn, and assisting with yield trial and nursery activities.

Qualifications

Previous research experience is preferred but not required. Candidates should be able to work independently or with a team. Candidates must be willing to work outside in field working conditions.

The successful candidate must undergo a drug screening and background check.

Interested individuals should submit resume to Robert.Wright@Corteva.com

Thank you,

Mr. Robert Wright
Research Associate
Phytogen Cotton Seed/ Pioneer Hi-Bred
Corteva Agriscience
806.252.6665

