Student Learning Outcomes

- Develop creative solutions to management information systems problems as they relate to the operations of a business.

- Develop a strategic focus for IS/IT.

- Understand the role of technology and strategy for business success.

- Students will be able to identify ethical dilemmas and make appropriate ethical decisions in the business context of information technology and systems operations.

Bachelor of Business Administration in Information Systems and Quantitative Science