Student Learning Outcomes

1. MBA graduates should have the ability to identify, analyze, and propose reasonable solutions to problems.

2. MBA graduates should have the ability to identify and propose solutions to ethical dilemmas, and legal and social issues.

3. MBA graduates should understand how the various parts of a business and its environments interact.

4. MBA graduates should have the ability to lead and manage in an organization.

5. MBA graduates should understand how to work effectively in teams to accomplish organizational goals.

6. MBA graduates should develop effective communication skills -- oral, written, and listening.

7. MBA graduates should understand and apply the body of knowledge in business -- accounting, finance, management, marketing, and information systems.

8. MBA graduates should understand the basic interrelationships of cultural and international differences in the business environment.