POLICIES FOR PARTICIPANTS

All individuals who take part in studies in the Rawls Research Lab must read and agree to the following lab rules.

- Follow all guidelines and instruction provided by the researcher or research assistant.
- Silence all cell phones. When participating in a study, we ask that you do not talk on the phone, text, or answer any emails.
- Do not open any other browsers or applications on your computer unless instructed to do so.
- Treat all lab equipment with respect.
- Do not eat or drink while you are in the lab unless instructed to do so.
- The lab is not responsible for lost items.
- If you have any questions about a given study, please ask the researcher or research assistant after the study is complete.

Thank you!
