The student's name and Texas Tech email address will be displayed. Click on the student to view their active FERPA connections.

Click the dropdown arrow to validate authorization using either the security PIN or the parent/individual's email address to view FERPA access grants.
