Grant and Research Activities

3/17-2/20 Co Project Director, CPRIT. "De Casa en Casa 2: Cervical Cancer Screening in West Texas". This three-year project will use the AMIGAS program to increase cervical cancer screening. We are expanding on De Casa en Casa to provide screening in Lubbock and surrounding counties in addition to El Paso and Hudspeth Counties. We will provide screening and colposcopy as needed to uninsured and underinsured women. There will also be a training arm for Family Medicine residents and patient navigation.

12/14-11/18 Project Director, CPRIT. "ACCION for Rural West Texas". Three year CRC screening project in Lubbock and surrounding rural counties. 1.4 million dollars.

10/11-9/18 Co Project Director, CPRIT. "ACCION: Against Colorectal Cancer in our Neighborhoods". Three-year project to increase CRC screening in low income, uninsured or underinsured communities. The grant allows payment for screening and diagnostic colonoscopies. In addition, we will investigate the efficacy of an intervention in both group and individual settings, and will develop a 501c3 organization to carry on the mission of the project after funding ends. (renewed in 2015).

12/13-11/16 Co Project Director, CPRIT. "BEST: Breast Cancer Education, Screening and Navigation Program". Three-year project to increase mammography screening in El Paso and Hudspeth Counties.

12/13-11/16	Co Project Director, CPRIT. "De Casa en Casa: Cervical Cancer Screening in El Paso and Hudspeth County". This three-year project will use the AMIGAS program to increase cervical cancer screening. We will provide screening and colposcopy as needed to uninsured and underinsured women. There will also be a training arm for Family Medicine residents and patient navigation.
9/10-8/15	Co-investigator (after 6/1/11 I am a consultant on this project), NCI "Reducing Cancer Disparities among Latinos in Texas". The Texas regional Community Networks Program, Latinos Contra El Cancer, combines innovative research, extensive community outreach, and a multi-faceted training program, all conducted within a community-based participatory research (CBPR) context, to reduce cancer-related health disparities in Latinos, and to build a cadre of competitive health disparities researchers trained in CBPR in three regions of Texas (Houston, El Paso, the Lower Rio Grande Valley). This will be accomplished through the work of three distinct yet complementary cores (Outreach, Research, and Training) to integrate knowledge generation, community health education, and community and researcher capacity building within and across the three sites, building on existing research infrastructures, longstanding relationships, and novel communication systems.
10/09-02/13	Co-Investigator, CDC "Acceptability of Active Surveillance as a Treatment Choice for Prostate Cancer among US Men". The aim is to better understand what men and their partners need to know in order to make a decision about prostate cancer treatment.
9/2010-8/2015	Co-investigator (After 6/1/11 I am a consultant on this project), HRSA Health Resources & Service Admin "Texas Public Health Training Center". To address the learning needs of the Texas public health workforce by strengthening and extending the network of academic and practice partners, increasing its capacity to respond to local and regional learning needs, refining methods for ongoing, individual and organizational learning needs assessment, and delivering and evaluating competency-based trainings.
07/09-06/11	Co-investigator, AHRQ. HCOE grant to increase Hispanic faculty and student success at the PLFSOM. Role: Evaluator.
09/07-06/11	Co-Investigator NIH 1P20MD002287-02 "Hispanic Health Disparities Research Center" Research Center that is structured in four cores, including: 1) Administrative, 2) Research, 3) Research Training and Education, and 4) Community Engagement and Dissemination. Role: Co-Director of Community Engagement and Dissemination core
10/06-09/11	Co-Principal Investigator, NIH/NHGRI "Interactive CD-ROM on Cancer Genetics for Hispanics". The goals of this project are to develop an interactive CD-ROM to educate Hispanic women about cancer risk and genetic testing, and to conduct a randomized, controlled evaluation that compares the efficacy of the CD-ROM program when used alone vs. when used with a promotora-assisted approach.

10/07-03/10 Principal Investigator, CDC "SIP 3- Intervention to Increase Screening for Cervical Cancer in Women of Mexican Descent". The purpose is to evaluate the efficacy of the AMIGAS intervention in a randomized, controlled trial. We also propose to evaluate the relative effectiveness of the core components of the intervention, and to describe the intervention characteristics, processes of delivery, and settings that facilitate program adoption, implementation, and maintenance.

10/04-09/07 Co-Investigator, CDC (PI: Chan) "Community Interventions in Non-Medical Settings to Increase Informed Decision Making (IDM) for Prostate Cancer Screening".

10/05-09/06 PI, "Understanding system variables in colorectal cancer screening" Texas Tech Medical School EXPORT grant pilot project.

9/03-9/08 Co-investigator, NIH (PI Balcazar) "Hispanic Health Disparities Research Center".

9/04-9/09 Co-investigator, CDC (PI: Fernandez) "LINCC: Latinos in a Network for Cancer Control".

9/04-9/08 Co-investigator, CDC (PI: Fernandez) "Trial of Interventions to Increase Utilization of Colorectal Cancer Screening and Promote Informed Decision-Making".

10/04-09/07 Co Principal Investigator, ASPH/CDC (Co-PI: Balcazar) "Promotoras de Salud Contra Hipertensión".
