

Hello, Red Raiders! My name is Raquel Iber. I'm an Assistant Director and Academic Counselor with the Student Disability Services office at Texas Tech. The SDS office provides reasonable, in-class accommodations for students with registered disabilities such as chronic illness, mobility, deaf and hard of hearing, visual, and learning disabilities. We also provide temporary classroom accommodations for students that have sustained a short-term injury. The SDS office is also responsible for educating the campus community on issues related to students with disabilities and ensuring Texas Tech upholds the guidelines set by the ADA.

The SDS office has one of the most comprehensive departments for students with disabilities in the state. With approximately 4,000 students registered for services, we encourage students to overcome challenges and attain personal and academic success.

In addition to the services provided by our main office, SDS also offers a supplemental academic enhancement program called the TECHniques Center. The TECHniques Center is a fee-for-service program for students with AD/HD, Learning Disabilities, and Autism Spectrum Disorders that provides one-on-one regularly scheduled tutoring as well as weekly meetings with an academic counselor.

Both the SDS and TECHniques Center offices are located on the first floor of the newly renovated Weeks Hall, located off of University Avenue and Broadway by the TTU seal. Students can access our services by visiting our website, social media platforms or dropping by our office! We're open Monday through Friday 8 a.m to 5 p.m, and our phone number is 806-742-2405. Students can also email us at sds@ttu.edu. If you have any questions about our office, please give us a call or drop by for a visit! We look forward to meeting with you and helping make your time at Texas Tech a great experience! Wreck 'Em!
