

SCHOOL OF THEATRE & DANCE

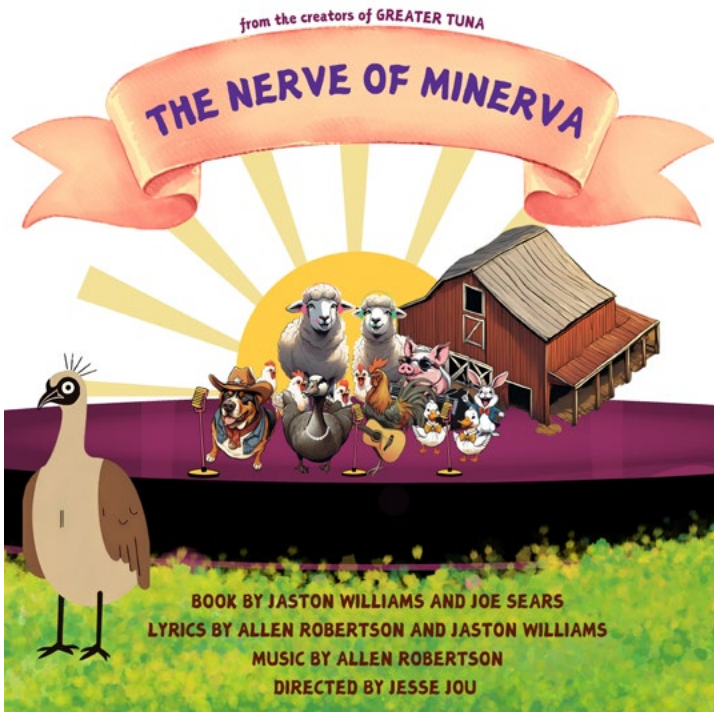

TEXAS TECH

J.T. & Margaret Talkington
College of Visual & Performing Arts

A RELAXED/SENSORY-ACCOMMODATING PERFORMANCE

SATURDAY, APRIL 5, 2025
2:00 P.M.

From the creators of Greater Tuna and featuring a colorful cast of animal characters that is sure to make audiences laugh—from the bovine to the canine to the chicken-ine—The Nerve of Minerva is barnyard musical satire for immature audiences.

Minerva is a lowly peahen who can't sing a lick. When the villainous trio of Rat, Weasel, and Fox cook up a scheme to distract a burlesque-dancing sow named Honey and the ever-watchful hound dog Cletus during a barnyard talent show, her weakness turns out to be her saving grace.

Immature Content Advisory: This show's Looney-Tunes antics may "grind your grits" or make you "clutch your pearls." But don't get MAD (Magazine). "What, me worry?"

Recommended for ages 13+

Welcoming individuals with sensory needs, including people on the autism spectrum.

Audience members can expect:

- the house lights to remain on;
- a reduction of loud/jarring sounds;
- flexible seating;
- to enter/exit the theatre as needed;
- a sensory space in the lobby with a screen showing the performance;
- and a welcomed use of phones and sensory items (i.e. noise-cancelling headphones or fidgets) during the performance.

CLICK HERE FOR \$10 TICKETS

Use pre-sale code BURKHART